1. Some-times in the shad - ows pat - terns are more clear. In chi - a - ro - scu - ro,
2. Too much light ob - scures what mut - ed tones re - veal; On - ly par - tial vi - sion
3. Night be - longs to day, and day be - longs to night; On - ly in the dark does shapes ap - pear. Fold - ed in - to light, the dark - ness tends to bend; sees what's real. Light is like a lov - er, dark - ness her be - loved;

God speak light. Wel - come the pe - num - bras; cel - e - brate the shade;

Each gains new per - spec - tive, friend from friend.
Danc - ing and em - brac - ing, both are moved. This much is for cer - tain;
Let us live with cour - age, un - a - fraid.

this we know as right, When we walk by faith and not by sight.
